

Life Course Perspective Board Game

Technology Fields: Research Tools

Technology ID: 212

Summary

The game is designed to confront the players with the effect of external factors on the course of an individual life. Factors that are considered are socioeconomic status, community resources and random acts and is meant to impart how resource availability impacts life courses. The game is simple and demonstrates the effect of many external forces, other than personal choice, on an individual's life.

the Life Course Perspective Board Game game board

Inventors

- CityMatCH

UNeMed currently offers a variety of licensing options and collaborative development opportunities with the University of Nebraska Medical Center

Contact Information:

Joe Runge
Business Development Manager
E: hrunge@unmc.edu

UNEMED:

986099 Nebraska Medical Center
Omaha, Nebraska 68198-6099
P 402.559.2468 F 402.559.2182
unemed.com