

Advance your technology with the DOD

PRESENTED BY

VICE CHANCELLOR FOR RESEARCH & UNEMED

Barry Datlof, MBA

Chief of Business Development and Commercialization
Office of Medical Technology Transfer
U.S. Army Medical Research & Development
Command (USAMRDC)

Mr. Datlof will discuss how the Army works with universities and businesses to license mature medical technologies that have application in military settings. Their portfolio includes technologies in therapeutics, vaccines, diagnostics, devices, and IT.

Mr. Datlof's office serves as an advocate to help researchers with tips on how to navigate and identifying potential funding opportunities and write effective CRADAs (Cooperative Research and Development Agreements).
